- An apparatus includes a storage device, a position comparison processor coupled to the at least one storage device, and a display coupled to the position comparison processor. A plurality of files is stored on the storage device, wherein each file contains at least one item of confidential information and wherein a geographic location of use is associated with the file. The position comparison processor compares a current geographic location with each of the geographic locations of use associated with the plurality of files and the display displays contents of a selected file, wherein the geographic location of use associated with the selected file matches the current geographic location.
